

What Lincoln is Reading

Wondering what the folks in Lincoln are reading? Here are a few of this month's most popular titles at the Lincoln Public Library District.

ADULT NON-FICTION

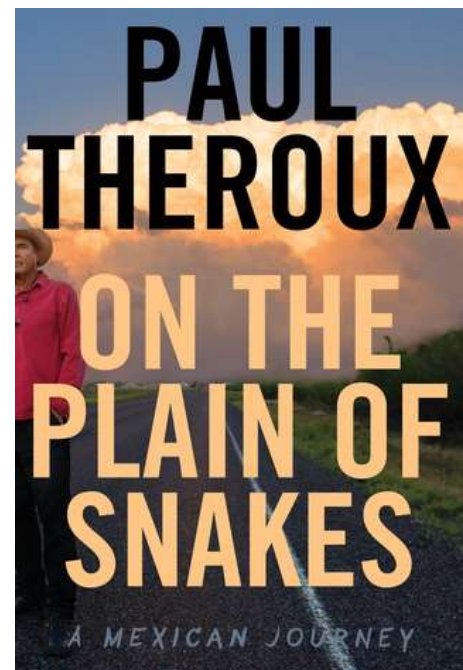

"All Blood Runs Red: The Legendary Life of Eugene Bullard – Boxer, Pilot, Soldier, Spy" by Phil Keith

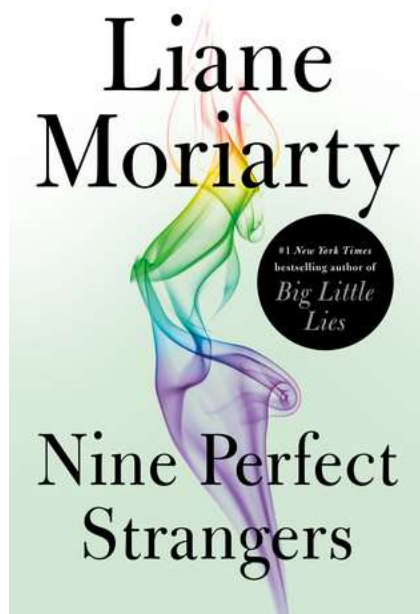

Eugene Bullard is one of the most interesting characters in world history. Born to a former slave he left Georgia at age eleven to distance himself from the radical racism. Landing in Europe he reaped global fame as a boxer. Returning to his American home he became the first African American fighter pilot. Following the war he returned to Paris to embrace even more remarkable parts of his life.

"On the Plain of Snakes: A Mexican Journey" by Paul Theroux

Keeping his eye on the humanity of all people, the travel writer Paul Theroux, journeys south of the U.S.-Mexican border. Taking the time to seek a vibrant people in the midst of the heated immigration debates around the world. Seeing how they continue on with their lives, even with the U.S. border control hanging over their heads and the conflict held within their own country.

ADULT FICTION

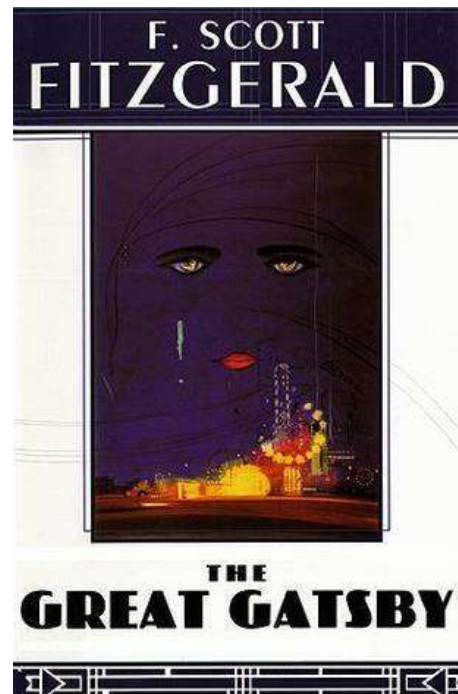

"Nine Perfect Strangers" by Lane Moriarty

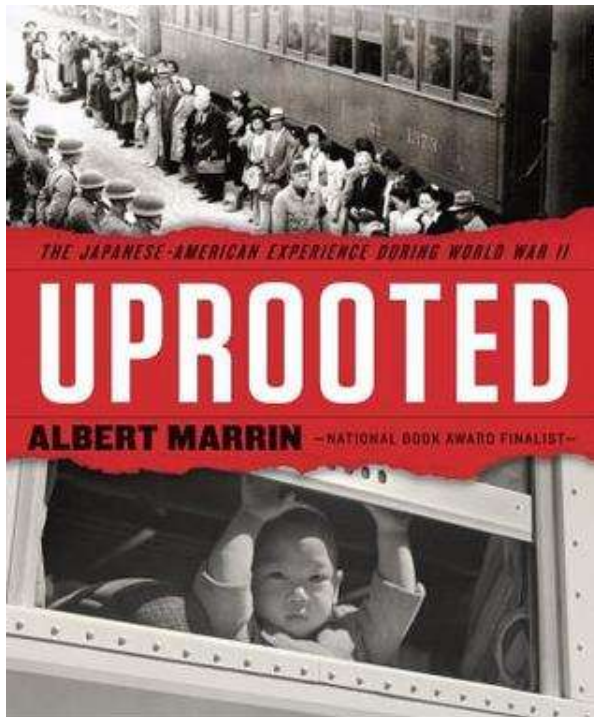

Frances Welty, is a best-selling romance author who has a bad back, a broken heart, and a paper cut. She has come to Tranquillium House to nurse all of them back to health. However, once there she is increasingly more interested in the other guests also visiting the wellness resort. Maybe even more so with the mysterious owner. Could he have the answers to questions she hasn't asked yet? Or should she get out while she still can?

"The Great Gatsby" Scott Fitzgerald

Nick Carraway makes the decision to leave his home town to strike out on his own in the big city. He takes up residence in the East Egg where he meets the enigmatic Jay Gatsby. His fabulously wealthy neighbor who throws the parties that define the Jazz Age. Nick becomes an unwitting party to the story of love and tragedy between Jay, his long lost love Daisy Buchanan and her husband.

YOUNG ADULT FICTION

"Uprooted: The Japanese American Experience During World War II" by Albert Marrin

A mere 75 years ago the United States was partisan to an atrocity incredibly similar to the very cause they were fighting in Europe. They rounded up over 100,000 of its own citizens and held them for nearly four years in concentration camps. The basis was solely on their Japanese ancestry and unfounded suspicion of their loyalty. Dive into the fear, hate, and racial intolerance that led to one of the US' darkest moments against its own citizens.

"American Royals" by Katharine McGee

What would the United States look like if George Washington had been crowned king rather than made president? How would the Washington lineage handle the ever changing world? How would the world handle women being able to hold the throne? Would the throne still be a privilege or a burden? In this alternate history we will look at the lives of the 3 Washington heirs.

