

What Lincoln is Reading

Wondering what the folks in Lincoln are reading? Here are a few of this month's most popular titles at the Lincoln Public Library District.

ADULT NON-FICTION

"Stay Sexy & Don't Get Murdered: A Definitive How-to Guide" by Karen Kilgariff, Georgia Hardstark

The creators of the hugely popular "My Favorite Murder", the true crime comedy podcast take you on a journey with them through their personal stories. From their biggest fears, to struggles with depression and addiction, they share what formula created them and how that helped them to be some of the most listened to voices in the country.

"The Five: The Untold Lives of the Women Killed by Jack the Ripper" by Hallie Rubenhold

The year is 1888, their names are Polly, Annie, Elizabeth, Catherine, and Mary-Jane. All five were from different places, with different jobs, what could they have in common? Their grisly murders by Jack the Ripper. Hallie Rubenhold takes the time to set the record straight and find out the true stories of these women that history has had incorrect for so long. With one basic truth they were murdered because they were in the wrong place at the wrong time.

ADULT FICTION

"Strange Planet" by Nathan Pyle

In this quick lighthearted book, Nathan Pyle compiled his long standing comic strip, he will introduce us to his most lovable, literal characters. With their unique way of speaking they will connect with your inner most self in a way that can only they can. These strange creatures are sure to leave a smile on your face.

"On Earth We're Briefly Gorgeous" by Ocean Vuong

In this letter written to his mother who can't read, a man named Little Dog delves into his family history, their roots in Vietnam long before he was born and how that connects to parts of his life that she has never known. In this poignant novel we will ride along on a journey of discovery and a look into what your race, class, and gender mean to the American life, especially when you factor in the prominence of trauma, violence, and addiction. We will see the importance of helping to heal each other without losing sight of who we are.

YOUNG ADULT

"Black Enough: Stories of Being Young and Black in America"

This anthology takes a deep delve into what it's like coming of age as a person of color in the United States. We will see into the lives of people all along the spectrum of pigmentation, urbanites, rural cowboys, the poor, the wealthy, those that weren't born here. We will see what the world looked like through their eyes with their own voice.

"One of Us Is Lying (One of Us is Lying #1)" by Karen McManus

The breakfast club is iconic, the Brain, the Beauty, the Criminal, the Athlete, and the Outcast... ever wonder what would happen if the outcast was found dead on that fateful Saturday morning? When the police rule that it wasn't an accident the surviving four are automatically suspects, or are they next? Now the real question is... was there somebody else in the school?

